

Math News

Math Rotations: The children may have come home and told you that they are rotating between 4 stations during math class. The 4 stations are Teacher (work with teacher), Independent practice, game, and Aleks/fast facts. On most days I put the children into 4 different groups based on how they performed on the chapter pretest. The group having the most trouble with a concept will work with me first and the group who already understands the concept/standard will show it on the independent worksheet so that when they rotate to me we can work on stretching their brains with different challenge work. The groupings are fluid to meet the needs of the children.

Homework

Every night the children should be coming home with a "My Homework" page. The exceptions are on Friday night and when Young Church begins we will not handout homework on Wednesday nights either.

Chapter 1: Place Value/comparing, ordering, rounding numbers.

This next week, we will be finishing up chapter 1. We should be taking our first test on Tuesday, Sept. 25th. They will have a review page to complete on Monday, Sept. 24.
